

Warehouse Operative

We are looking for a reliable, adaptable and capable warehouse assistant to join our team. Working for a well-established family-owned distributor of audio-visual products. You will be expected to work as part of our warehouse team ensuring our high customer service standards are consistently met.

Company Culture

Our core values are respect, trust and appreciation for each other and our customers.

- We ask all to take ownership of what they do each day and to do it to the best of their ability.
- We look for patience, understanding and support for each other in good days & bad.
- We ask for 100% commitment - if something's worth doing then it's worth doing right!
- Employees and customers are of equal importance, and we try to create an environment where our employees can excel, and our customers can enjoy the best of service and satisfaction.
- We have ambition and challenge ourselves to step outside our comfort zone.

As a family business founded 50+ years ago these core values have stood to us throughout our journey, and we hope will continue to guide us in the years ahead.
